

The teens working on making the missions conference theme banner.

The teen guys building the Tuck Shop.

Tuck Shop walls going up.

Each year we try to put a display in the Fellowship Hall that depicts something from one of the countries that will be represented at the conference. The missionaries this year are from South Africa and Tanzania. A Tuck Shop is a little store in remote villages in South Africa similar to our little country stores, with just a few supplies, so you don't have to run all the way to town.

While the teen boys are working on the Tuck Shop the teen girls are working on the window decorations that go with the conference theme.

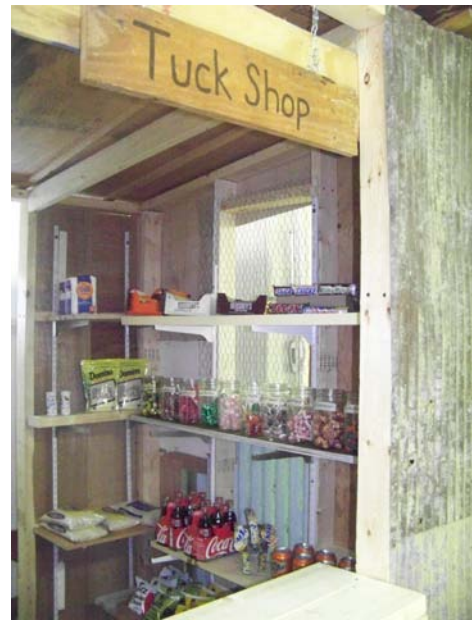

The girls also put up the bulletin boards.

Finishing the Tuck Shop.

They guys putting up the banner. The girls putting up the flags.

The finished product.

The pier with the life preserver on it is our theme display in the sanctuary.

From another angle.

